Snorkeling Advise & Safety

Snorkelling is an absolute must do activity during your stay in the Maldives. The natural abundance of marine life is impressively stunning.

House Reef
Snorkelling on the house reef is at your own discretion. A map of the house reef with details about the entry points avoiding corals will be available to you upon arrival and at the diving centre. This is also shown on your IPTV.

Equipment
You may borrow your complementary snorkeling set at the Dive Centre. Please RETURN the equipment back to the dive school in the evening prior to your departure if you are departing early in the morning the next day or by midday if departing during the evening to avoid any charges automatically applied on your account for non-delivery of resort equipment.

Snorkelling lesson:
If you are not confident on the use of snorkeling equipment, please take advantage of the complimentary weekly snorkeling lessons organized by the dive center in the lagoon by the Water Sports lagoon.

Tides
We experience high tides and low tides daily. Please refer to advice which is given by our team on the tide timings which will vary based on the moon. More information is available at the Diving Centre and at Water sports.

Currents
At times, currents can become very strong and/or rapid. Please avoid swimming too far from the beach, reef, or villa. All details relating to High Tide / Low Tide will always be available at our Diving Center.

Precautions:
– Do not step on corals, as they are extremely fragile and take years to grow.
– Coral formations are rigid and sharp, injury can occur after accidental contact, so be careful.
– Please be careful with all underwater life. Many of the underwater animals have natural defense mechanisms as their means of protection, from poisonous stings to sharp teeth or blades. Hence, please DO NOT touch them.
– It is strictly prohibited to collect seashells or any coral from the surrounding reefs in the island.

SWIMMING SAFETY

- Please note that we do not have a lifeguard on duty and swimming is at your own risk.
- Never swim alone – use the buddy system. Don't overestimate your swimming ability. A lot of people are used to swimming in the pool, in still water. Conditions are different in open water, and distance and direction are affected by currents. If you find yourself in a strong current, it is best not to tire yourself by trying to swim against it, rather swim diagonally across it, until you reach shore, further down the beach.
- Always wear full snorkelling equipment including fins.
- Always evaluate the conditions and do not go out when there is a strong wind, choppy seas or bad weather.
- Please avoid swimming when it is dark.
- Never swim while intoxicated. – Alcohol impairs judgement, unnecessary risks are taken and a swimmer will tire more easily, increasing the chance of an accident. Alcohol is a contributory factor in one-third of all major incidents in the water.

Reef Care Guide

Over 90% of life on earth is aquatic, yet less than 1% of marine habitats are protected - help us preserve life!

Titan Triggerfish
A Titan triggerfish can be quite aggressive when guarding their eggs during nesting. They viciously defend their nests against intruders, including divers and snorkelers. Their territory extends in a cone from the nest in the house reef towards the inner lagoon and towards the surface, so swimming upwards can put the swimmers further into the fishes' territory; a horizontal swim away from the nest site, towards the deep water is best when confronted by an angry triggerfish.

Stonefish
A stonefish is venomous and mostly motionless. As a defense, it erects 13 poisonous dorsal fin spines when it is threatened or disturbed. Its venom can be fatal to humans. Never stand on the corals at the reef, the stonefish has the ability to camouflage its appearance as if it were part of the reef.

Stingray
Most stingrays have a barbed sting on the tail, which is used exclusively for self-defence. Stingrays do not aggressively attach humans, stings usually occur when one steps on a ray. The bard usually breaks off in the wound, and surgery may be required to remove the fragments.

Soft Coral
Soft corals are corals that do not produce calcium carbonate skeletons. Unlike the hard corals, they are mostly found in deep waters.

Anemones
Certain anemones have venom-filled tentacles which are triggered when touched. Make sure not to touch any of the anemones to avoid painful stings.

Shells:
All are beautiful, but certain shells are venomous, such as the cone shell, so no matter how attractive they are, do not touch them.
